A New Wheeling Enterprise.

At No. 26 Tenth street, upstairs in the Hawley block, H. Lingon & Co. have started an entirely new enterprise for this city, this being a ladies' tailoring establishment. Wheeling ladies were always noted as good dressers, and such an establishment is pretty sure to be a success. Mr. Lingon, the head of the new firm, is a well known and veteran tailor, with a most creditable record, and as the head of the new house will doubtless prove the right man. The ladies should call and inspect the firm's facilities for suiting the most fastidious taste.

PATRIOTIC DAY

To be Observed October 4 by Various Orders in Wheeling.

A MEETING HELD ON SATURDAY

By Holiday Post, G. A. R., at Which the Movement was Initiated—A General Committee from the Various Patriotic Organizations Will Have Charge—Wheeling Park Will Probably be Selected as the Place.

At its meeting Saturday evening, Holiday post, G. A. R., took the initiative steps preparatory to the celebration of "Patriotic Day" in Wheeling by the several Grand Army posts, Women's Relief Corps, and the other patriotic organizations. The project was taken hold of with enthusiasm and the old soldiers intend to make the celebration one to be remembered. A committee from the post was appointed which will confer with the other patriotic organizations of the city and vicinity and ask that each body appoint members to combine and act as a general committee that will have the affair in charge. At Saturday evening's meeting the sentiment seemed to favor Wheeling park as the place where the celebration should be held and Thursday, October 4, had the call as the time.

It is proposed that all of the patriotic organizations of the city take part, including the G. A. R. posts, Women's Relief Corps, Sons of Veterans, Ladies of the G. A. R., O. U. M., Jr. U. U. A. M. and other organizations. At meetings of the various organizations within the week it is probable that the members of the general committee will be selected and that in ten days the committee will be hard at work getting ready for the affair. September 27 has been looked upon with favor but the fact that the Odd Fellows have their outing on that day made the selection of the day impossible.

SHE TOOK PARIS GREEN.

Mrs. Welshans, living up the River, Committee Saleide.

Mrs. Alice Welshans, wife of George Welshans, residing on Deep run, above Martin's Ferry, died yesterday from the effects of swallowing two tablespoonfuls of paris green. She took this with suicidal intent at 8 o'clock on Saturday night, and died at noon yesterday after much suffering.

She told her husband on Saturday night that she had taken the paris green and wanted to know if it would hurt her. At first he paid little attention to her, thinking she was only joking, but soon realized that she was very sick. Dr. J. L. Caldwell, of Portland, was summoned some time afterward. He hurried to the Welshans home, but when he learned that Mrs. Welshans had taken so much and so long before he said he could not save her life, and simply gave her a little medicine to ease her. She would have become a mother in a few weeks. She was about forty years old, and leaves seven children, the oldest of whom is fifteen years of age.

Her maiden name was Trouton, and she was a sister of George and Joan Trouton, and a sister-in-law of Allen McGrew.

It is understood that Mrs. Welshans took her life on account of domestic troubles. When asked why she had taken paris green, she said she was tired of living.

WHY THEY CHANGED.

Revelation of Political Feeling Among the Theatians.

During those days of revulsion of political feeling the almost solid change of front of one profession seems to have been lost sight of, or at least has not been noticed. Says a Wheeling hotel clerk: "It is surprising to see how the members of the theatrical profession have turned front, politically speaking, since the election of 1892. It is generally known that the great majority of the Theatians have for a generation been staunch Democrats. Before that fateful November day in 1892 every troupe had in its ranks one or two who took delight in dilating on the untold blessings that would result from the adoption of their pet free trade theories. But, oh, what a difference in '94. These same fellows who would have relegated the Republican party to the innermost recesses of the darkest wing of the political play-house, have almost to a man changed their political opinions and are now among the loudest exhorters of protection. Why is this? It's very simple. All the trouble laid in Democratic success. Democratic success brought hard times, hard times didn't bring audiences, no audiences did bring reductions in salaries, and reduction in salaries brought change in political opinions."

A FAIR complexion is a joy forever. If your sister or mother is not blessed with a smooth skin recommend Pozzoni's Powder; recommended by all the leading physicians and druggists everywhere.
